

Helen Fisher: The Brain in Love

Fisher found evidence of romantic love in _____ cultures.

_____ cultures have no concept of romantic love.

_____ percent of college student report having been rejected by someone they love.

_____ % report having rejected someone they believed loved them

Two central images in the Kwakiutal love poem that she recites are

- (a) _____ (b) _____

The VTA, the part of the brain in which need and desire is located, as the part that is active when people fall in love.

The three parts of the brain that are active after rejection are the parts controlling

- (a) need and desire
(b) _____
(c) _____

Results of research

- (a) _____
(b) love is an addiction
(c) _____

Researchers find that people who claim to be in love after many years

Several factors influence our choice of mates including

- (a) similar socio-economic background
(b) _____
(c) _____
(d) similar religious values

Biological factors include levels of Dopamin, _____, Oestrogen, _____, and Testosterone which determine 4 general personality types

Men and women find intimacy differently. Women generally find intimacy _____ because of millennia of connecting with children while men find intimacy side-by-side because of _____
